Bio - Mr. Medsker has over 20 years of experience taking projects from early stages of design through procurement and coordination, developing them into construction ready projects. This process integrates multiple trade partners, defining scopes of work, contracts, and setting the construction projects up for success.

At Green Contracting, Mr. Medsker's experience repetitively focusing on this aspect of work has made him a great communicator and facilitator to solve problems, build relationships, and choose approaches that create best-value win-win solutions for trade partners and customers.

Mike's attention to details and full comprehension of project documents and requirements make him a valued asset in not only project development, but also in budgeting and cost estimation, and project delivery.
