Bio - Mrs. Moskunas joined Green Contracting in 2014 as a Bid Coordinator. While her initial role was to organize and disseminate project documents, receive vendor and subcontract proposals, and assemble our final proposal packages, she quickly became more involved in all aspects of the estimating process through self-motivation and demonstrating a detailed comprehension of the proposal and project-related requirements. She also worked closely with the Chief Estimator to improve and implement standard processes and procedures related to the preconstruction group and became active in further business development initiatives.

Her early success led her to a role as an Assistant Project Manager supporting other senior managers and ultimately running some of her own projects. Much like her tenure in the estimating department, Nicole analyzed many of the tasks she performed and continuously found avenues for improved organization and efficiencies. Her work ethic, organizational and communication skills, and acute attention to detail yielded positive project results. Coupled with her experience in estimating and developing processes and procedures, Nicole's skill sets and ambition for improvement made her an obvious choice for the Program Manager position in 2019.

In her current role, she leads the administrative staff and is responsible for all internal process development. She works closely with the project management group and serves as a liaison between departments, ensuring the proper communication and organization of all business and project related information.
