

Project Manager

Eric Herzig

Green Contracting employee since 2013 with 14 total years of mechanical construction experience.

Certifications

FMI - Construction Executives Institute, 2022

FMI - Project Managers Academy, 2019

USACE - Construction Quality Management, 2023

Johns Hopkins Health System

Chiller Plant Upgrades, Phase 1 & 2

Bayview Medical Center

Mechanical Prime $ 27MM

Reference: Nancy Martin

Nmarti28@jhmi.edu

Clarkson University

Bachelor of Science – Interdisciplinary Engineering & Management

Minor – Project Management, emphasis on Construction

Ft. Detrick Energy, LLC / ESG

Central Utility Plant – Phase III

Signal Campus Utility Expansion

Mechanical Prime $ 9MM

Reference: Michael Lange

mlange@energysystemsgroup.com

NIH - National Cancer Institute

Chilled Water Plant 5 Expansion

Leidos / Callas Contractors, Inc.

Mechanical Subcontractor $ 3.1MM

Reference: Roscoe Butler

Roscoe.butler@nih.gov

Perry Point VA Medical Center

Boiler #2 Replacement

Mechanical Subcontractor - $3.56MM

Reference: Matt Hargrove

Matthew.hargrove@va.gov

Bio - Mr. Herzig joined Green Contracting in July 2013 as an Assistant Project Manager with four years of prior experience working as a project engineer at The Bell Company. In addition to working as an APM, his organizational skills, and attention to detail caught the attention of Mr. Schwalje, then Chief Estimator, who quickly included him in the preparation of large-scale proposals.

In April 2014, Eric moved to South Carolina to join his wife during her residency. During his stay in South Carolina, he was again employed by The Bell Company as an Assistant Project Manager. Upon his return to Maryland in July 2017, Mr. Herzig rejoined Green Contracting as Project Manager. Displaying an exemplary work ethic and utilizing his educational and practical experience, Eric has quickly excelled in both the project management and estimation functions of the Company.

Highly motivated, Mr. Herzig continues to take on new challenges and responsibilities and is considered a senior member of the management team. His overall commitment to his own success and that of the Company makes him an asset to Green Contracting.

Contact Mr. Herzig: [O] 410-780-0500 | [C] 716-903-7814 | eherzig@greencontracting.com